

Boot Camp weekends are an honest trek into the deep passions and desires of a man's heart, into the healing of the wounds he's taken in this battle, into the realm of fatherhood and sex and God's calling – life as it was meant to be lived.

Those who come say it is one of the greatest weekends of their life!

It's a group of guys, a luxury log home in beautiful Hocking Hills, surrounded by 14 acres with stunning views of forest, lake, and waterfall.

This weekend involves straightforward conversations, quiet reflections, meals, movies, and adventures.

You will discover something profound about the heart of God and the heart he gave you as a man!

All men die.
Few men really live.

Join us for a Boot Camp weekend

John Eldredge, author of “Wild at Heart,” will help us explore key questions about who we are as men, who God intends us to be, and the spiritual battles that surround us.

We'll have extended time alone with Jesus in a place free of distraction – one that is bursting with the beauty and wonder of His creation. It's a time of peace, healing, restoration, camaraderie, laughter, and a challenge to become the warrior and lover you were meant to be.

But this is not your typical retreat. You will not be asked to break into small groups and share your feelings. Instead, you will hear from men living in pursuit of the heart of God.

Bring your fishing gear for the stocked pond, your hiking boots for the trails, and your guns or bows for target shooting. If you don't like to shoot, don't worry - not everyone does. There are plenty of other options. Boot Camp opens with dinner on Thursday night at 6pm (registration begins at 5pm) and wraps up at noon on Sunday.

Come. Play your part in God's epic story.

The $265* cost covers food and lodging. Don't let cost be an issue; scholarships are available.

*The cost increases by $30 to $295 one month before the camps so be sure to register early.
